SENATE PASSES BILL TO START GOLD TO WORK

VAST RESOURCES OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE OPENED

Measure Will Speed Up Economic Recovery

By Francis M. Stephenson
Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The senate today passed the Glass-Steagall bill putting to work the nation's idle gold and opening the vast resources of the Federal Reserve for an expansion of credit.

The measure bearing the promise of leaders of both parties to speed America on an upward economic swing already has passed the house. It will become a law next week.

Extend Life
The senate went a step farther than the house and voted to make the life of the bill two years instead of one. This is one of the few differences between the house and senate which must be composed before the legislation goes to President Hoover.

A shout of "aye" met the call for passage in the senate late today. No demand was made for a record vote. Senator Frazier (R., N. D.) briefly assailed the bill as a "banker's bill."

Senator Blaine (R., Wis.) earlier in the day accused the administration of undue alarm and of making the business community fearful.

The legislation completes the urgent phases of the non-partisan emergency program urged by President Hoover. It provides for re-opening in emergencies of paper held by Federal Reserve member banks which is not now eligible.

Melt Frozen Paper
Through this it is hoped to melt the stores of "frozen" paper in the National banks and instill a new confidence in the bankers, who were accused by Senator Glass of failing to function in the economic crisis.

Secretary Mills estimated the measure would theoretically allow for a $10,000,000,000 expansion of credit.

The legislation also would make it possible for direct government obligations to be put up as collateral for Federal Reserve note issues.

Senator Glass agreed to a change which would make the provision allowing individual banks to obtain the new rediscounting privileges available to all institutions with a capitalization of less than $2,000,000.

The banking committee originally proposed a $500,000 limit. Senator Thomas (D., Okla.) offered the amendment extending the terms of the legislation to two years, to March 3, 1934. He was opposed by Senator Glass but the motion carried 46 to 18.

An attempt by Senator Blaine to add an amendment prohibiting the use of the new credit in speculation was overwhelmingly rejected when Senator Glass explained he intended the bill to carry a bill carrying this restriction.

RELEASED ON BOND
Moline, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Charged with embezzling $8,400 from the Moline school district, of which he formerly was treasurer, G. Leander Peterson was arraigned in magistrate's court today and released on $7,500 bond.

WEATHER
For Jacksonville and vicinity—Fair and warmer weather will prevail in this vicinity today, followed by cloudy and mild weather Sunday. There is a possibility that rain may visit this section Sunday night.

The Norbury Sanitarium Weather Bureau last night issued the following weather report: temperatures high 43; low 27. At sunset yesterday evening it was 22.

Barometer readings were: A. M. 30.28; P. M. 30.44.

Illinois—Fair, somewhat warmer in north and central portions Saturday. Sunday cloudy and mild, followed by rain.

Missouri—Increasing cloudiness, with somewhat warmer in north portion Saturday; possibly followed by some rain with mild temperature at night or on Sunday.

Building Trades Workers Decide on Lower Wages

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—It's better to work at $7 a day, Chicago's union trades workers have decided, than to loaf at $12.

The plumbers and electricians unions announced today they will work on remodeling and modernizing private homes for 45 per cent less than their union wage scales.

Home owners can buy their own supplies, it was announced, and the workmen will give them the special rate. The union men already have agreed to accept 20 per cent cuts for their regular employment by contractors. The additional 25 per cent reduction is intended to increase employment on private projects.

BOTH WETS AND DRYS SUPPORT GARNER, CLAIM

Question Is Discussed During Debate In House

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The endorsement of both "wets and drys" was claimed in the house today for Speaker Garner, a Democratic presidential possibility.

During a discussion of law suits involving the eighth amendment, Representative Blanton, an ardent prohibitionist, predicted Garner would sweep the country because "the people believe there is something here beside the liquor question."

The Texas Democrat spoke in reply to remarks made Thursday by Representative Tamm (R., Mo.), chairman of the committee on the eighth amendment, who said the churchman had filed against him.

Garner was brought into the discussion by Representative Schaefer (R., Wis.), an anti-prohibitionist. He said that though Garner voted against the eighth amendment, he voted for the Volstead act, he voted for the notorious five-and-ten law.

"We can realize why the father of the eighteenth amendment, William S. Taft, and the stepfather, William G. McAdoo, came out for him," Schaefer said.

Condemned Delay
Schaefer retorted that Garner, who has been condemning the delay in the reorganization of the executive departments also voted for $24,000,000 to be given the executive, without restriction, for the purpose of dry law enforcement.

"I want to call the attention of the house to this," Blanton said, "that William Randolph Hearst, a notorious wet, endorses the man I nominated and this morning one of the great drys in the United States, William G. McAdoo, endorsed him. So you see he has the endorsement of the wets and the drys. It is an economic question."

DENEEN FACTION PICKS SLATE

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Charles S. Deneen faction of the Republican party today announced its slate of candidates in the forthcoming election, but left all state offices, save that of attorney general open.

No gubernatorial candidate was named, but John E. Northrup, first assistant state's attorney, was given the faction's candidacy for attorney general. State's attorney John A. Swanson was named for re-nomination, although previous reports were that he and former Senator Deneen had fallen out politically.

PAROLE VIOLATOR
Chicago, Feb. 19.—James Duval, alias James Miller, for a time believed by police to be wanted in Kirksville, Mo., for bank robbery, was returned today to the Illinois State Penitentiary at Joliet for violation of parole. A check of police records showed he was not the man wanted in Kirksville, authorities said. Reports that he was wanted in Omaha, Neb., also were disproved.

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS MURDER
Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Chicago's 201st verdict of "murder by persons unknown" since Jan. 1, was handed down today by a coroner's jury.

The victim was Philip Flavin, 30, shot to death in gangland fashion on the far west side. Flavin was an "independent" liquor dealer, police said.

STOCK PRICES ADVANCE FOR SHORT TIME

Early Gains Are Lost During The Final Hours

By Claude A. Jagger
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Bears gave stock prices a violent boost in the opening transactions today, in a stampede to get out of the market, but wondered if they had been frightened by a shadow, as the advance dwindled away during the remainder of the trading session.

Early gains of $1 to $7 a share, recorded during the first 15 minutes of hectic trading, were whittled away by profit-taking and fresh selling thereafter, and the close of the market found a mixture of narrow gains and losses, although a few prominent issues finished without gains of $1 to $2.50 a share.

Wall street was highly confused at the start of trading over the possible effects of the stock exchange's new ruling, announced late yesterday, which will require brokers after April 1 to obtain specific permission from their customers before loaning their stock to short sellers.

Trading during the first half hour embraced 700,000 shares, as stocks were taken in blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares, but the market soon cooled down, and the total turnover for the five hours of trading was only 2,431,712 shares.

Announcement from the white house after the close of the market that President Hoover had conferred recently with stock exchange officials over the problem of control of short selling evoked no comment from the stock exchange, but was regarded in Wall street as significant.

The chief effect of the new rule on loaning stocks to short sellers, some brokers thought, would be increased costs of borrowing, expressed in the view that few of their customers would refuse to permit their stocks to be loaned if the practice were profitable. Heretofore, the broker has collected the premiums on stocks loaned, but several felt that after April 1, it may be necessary to split the premiums with their customers.

One of the chief sources of stocks borrowable for short selling, it was pointed out, was not affected by the stock exchange ruling, that is, the holding companies and investment trusts.

One of the high fliers in today's market was Eastman Kodak, which surged up $7 to $84.75, then closed at $80. Auburn, after pushing up $6.50, fell back to close with a net loss of $3.75, at $118.25. American Telephone closed with a loss of 75 cents a share, at $133, after touching $137.37. Union Pacific up about $5, but had only 50 cents of its gain left, when it closed at $89. U. S. Steel rose $3.15 to $52.62, then closed at $50.50, up only 1 from yesterday's final price. These fluctuations were typical among leading issues.

EMERGENCY TAX BILLS SIGNED BY EMMERSON

Taxpayers' Credit Measure May Give Aid to Cook County

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Governor Louis L. Emmerson late today signed five emergency tax bills, among them the bill which it is expected, will start delinquent Chicago taxes rolling into the Cook county and the state treasuries. It is the Schnackenberg bill to credit tax payers for tax money paid on assessments which have been declared illegal.

The bill provides that county clerks in making up tax collectors' books for the years 1928, 1929 or 1930 for which a reassessment is made, shall credit taxpayers with the amount of taxes paid upon void assessments. In case the amount of taxes paid upon void assessments exceeds the total amount of taxes for which the tax payer is liable in any year, the amount so paid is to be credited from year to year until credit for the total amount has been given.

Another bill signed, provided an amendment to the mutual building loan and homestead association, giving such associations authority to take necessary means to withstand the draining of resources during this period of depression. It authorizes the borrowing of money for the payment of withdrawals and maturities and also authorizes the associations to accept a pro rata basis in paying withdrawals, subject to the approval of the state auditor.

Approval was also given a bill removing the requirement of three per cent interest for deposits made by city treasurers under the commission form of government, and provides that whatever interest is collected shall be added to the particular fund upon which the interest has accrued rather than being paid into the general fund, as in the past.

Two other bills signed provide that the 1932 appropriation bill of Cook county may be adopted before May 1 of that year, and also provides that towns, cities and villages may make a deduction in the amount of taxes turned over to the county, for taxes unpaid, on real estate forfeited to the state.

COURT UPHOLDS CONVICTION OF LEO BROTHERS

Justice Norman Jones Writes Opinion In Famous Case

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Conviction of Leo V. Brothers, for the murder of Alfred "Jack" Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter was upheld by the State Supreme Court today.

Justices Dunn and DeYoung dissented from the majority decision. Justice Frederick D. Young, Chicago, and Frank Dunn, Charleston, in dissenting said the evidence in regard to identity of Brothers as the murderer of Lingle was exceedingly contradictory.

The majority opinion, written by Justice Norman L. Jones, Carrollton, said the principle controversy relates to the identification of Brothers as the man who shot Lingle and fled from the scene of the crime.

In commenting on the testimony of various witnesses and instructions to the jury, the majority opinion says: "No error was committed in the admission of evidence tending to show that the man who shot and killed Lingle immediately threw down his weapon and precipitously fled through the tunnel, up a stairway, across crowded streets and disappeared in an alley while being chased by a great phalanx of the distance by a police officer and by citizens who were crying out 'stop that man'. The conduct of the assailant in his efforts to avoid capture tended to bespeak his guilt and a desire to escape arrest."

Answering the contention that the conviction was against the weight of the evidence the court said "Identification of the defendant was the principal contest question of fact. It appears to us that the testimony of the defendant is more convincing than the testimony of the witness for the defendant."

Justice Dunn and De Young, in their dissenting opinions, said: "In our judgment, it is difficult to say on which side of the issue was the preponderance of the evidence, much less to say that it was convincing of the guilt of the plaintiff in error beyond a reasonable doubt. However, the question may be determined, the error of the court in communicating with the jury after they had retired from the bar requires a reversal of the judgment."

CHICAGO MAN IS FLEEDED OUT OF $200,000, CLAIM

Albert Pietsch Admits In Municipal Court He Lost Money on Oil Schemes

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Albert Pietsch, 59, who said he was the brother of Fred Pietsch, owner of the Pietsch Structural Iron Company of Milwaukee, admitted in municipal court today that he had been fleeced out of $200,000 in oil land schemes in the last 15 years.

Pietsch expressed confidence in the integrity of George Mindeman, serving a state penitentiary term on a confidence game charge. He was arraigned on a similar charge with the state auditor.

The court dismissed them because the offense charged took place in 1926, outside the statute of limitations. Police said they believed them to be dupes of Mindeman, to whom they introduced John Lasse, a carpenter who lost $1,000 in one of Mindeman's land schemes.

Pietsch said he would make a "new start" in Milwaukee. He said he once owned a half interest in the iron company.

Mindeman, said by police to have bilked "investors" of $1,000,000 in oil land schemes, was sentenced in 1922, jumped bond, and re-arrested last Sunday in Mrs. Keefer's hotel. He was sent to Joliet penitentiary to start serving his one to ten year term.

BELIEVE FARLEY WILL BE OUSTED BY ROOSEVELT

Leaders Say Tammany Will Not Break With Governor

By Robert St. John
Associated Press Staff Writer
New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Tammany, which claims it will control nearly 100 votes in the Democratic national convention was reported today to be reconciled to the possible ousting of one of its powerful chieftains, Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, candidate for the presidential nomination.

Political observers also saw evidence that Tammany will not precipitate an open break with the governor if he decides Farley must drop his title because of some $250,000 in unexplained bank deposits.

Watchful Waiter
The political tree has been pictured in recent weeks as a crafty animal playing the role of a "watchful waiter."

Present indications are that its policy of not making any commitment, either for or against any presidential aspirant, will be maintained as long as possible.

Sheriff Farley himself said today, from a hospital bed, that his organization, and he controls a big Tammany section—will back the governor to the limit of its resources if he gets the nomination, regardless of what action Roosevelt may take on the Farley charges.

"On a hundred percent Democrat," Farley said, "and if the organization backs him in the convention and he is nominated, I'll carry on as hard a campaign for him as I have for other party candidates."

Strain On Tammany
Frequent strain has been seen on the Tammany-Roosevelt relations during an inquiry into the Tammany-controlled municipal government, on order of the Republican-controlled legislature.

Three times the governor himself has been projected into the forefront by requests that he pass judgment on Tammany kingpins—Mayor James J. Walker, District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain and now Sheriff Farley.

Each time there has been talk of an open split between Roosevelt and the Manhattan organization, but it never has occurred.

In the other two cases the charges were dismissed by the governor, but this time it is predicted by those who attended the hearings of the Farley charges that the governor will depose the official under fire.

The governor meanwhile was swinging through the western part of the state, making speeches, conferring with Democratic leaders and seeking to solidify support of his candidacy.

Roosevelt's liaison officer, James A. Farley, was in Chicago establishing headquarters for the convention campaign and talking of what Roosevelt would do "after being elected president."

There was also activity in other Democratic camps.

THE PRINCESS KALAMIANAOLE, HAWAII, DIES

Was The Last Survivor of King Kamehameha The Great Hero

Honolulu, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Princess Kalamianaole, descendant of King Kamehameha, the Hawaiian people's greatest hero, died here this afternoon.

The last survivor of the most famous of Hawaiian families, the princess was the wife of Prince Jonah Kūhiō Kalanianaʻole, who served as Hawaii's last monarch, and died in 1902 until his death in 1922.

Afterward she married the late J. Frank Woods. She was active, after her first husband's death, in carrying on the work of Hawaiian rehabilitation as a member of the Hawaiian Homes commission.

Princess Elizabeth Kakaua Kaleiwohi-Kaunaloa Kalanianaʻole, widow of Prince Jonah Kūhiō Kalanianaʻole, last titular representative of the Hawaiian monarchs, assumed her husband's position as leader of the people after his death in January, 1922, and ruled a phantom kingdom that existed only in the minds of the old Hawaiians. To the old residents of the islands the Kalanianaʻole residence "Pualani" (Wreath of Heaven) at Waikiki beach was the palace of the country, where practically all the features of the old court were maintained and all the home due a reigning monarch was paid the Prince, during his life and Princess, despite the fall of the monarchy in 1893 and the annexation by the United States.

OLDEST ALUMNUS DIES
New Haven, Conn., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Dr. Virgil M. Dow, Yale graduate of 1856 and the oldest alumnus, died today. He would have been 99 years old April 5.

Dr. Dow served as a physician with the Union army during the Civil war. His death leaves Rev. Dr. August F. Bied, retired Congregational minister of Norwalk, Conn., a graduate of the class of 1857, the oldest Yale alumnus. Dr. Bied will be 99 May 14.

DEEP THROATED JAPANESE GUNS ANNOUNCE OPENING OF THE GREAT BATTLE

ACTION MAY BE GREATEST SINCE THE WORLD WAR

Japan Rushes Men, Tanks, Artillery To The Front

Shanghai, Feb. 20.—(Saturday)—(AP)—The eighth-seventh and eighty-eighth divisions of the crack troops of General Chiang Kai-shek, China's chief military commander, were reliably reported today to have taken up positions in Kiangwan, north of Shanghai.

This was regarded as a highly important development as the Japanese have drawn a careful line of distinction between Chiang's troops and the nineteenth Chinese route army, the unit hitherto serving on the Shanghai front.

Japanese planes were bombing the Kiangwan positions supposedly held by the eighty-seventh and eighty-eighth.

Bulletin
Shanghai, Feb. 20.—(Saturday)—(AP)—The Japanese attacked westward this morning along a wide front outside the Chapei area and in Hongkew they drove northwards toward Kiangwan, two miles from Hongkew Park.

Their object was to occupy the Shanghai-Woosung railway line and to protect their flank. It was expected that when the movement had been completed—if it proved successful—they would launch an assault on the strong Chinese positions in Chapei.

Bulletin
Shanghai, Feb. 20.—(Saturday)—(AP)—Infantry assault lines were advancing this morning behind the cover of a Japanese barrage laid down on the Chinese positions on the Kiangwan front. Japanese naval headquarters announced.

Shanghai, Feb. 20.—(Saturday)—The big Japanese push, aimed at overwhelming the stubborn Nineteenth Chinese Route army, that has been defending Shanghai, got under way this morning, and there was every promise that it would develop into the greatest military action since the World War. At 8:50 a. m. deep-throated Japanese guns roared forth from their positions in Hongkew.

Stiff Bombardment
A few minutes later the Chinese artillery accepted the gage of battle. The bombardment by both sides was of terrific proportions.

Japan's ultimatum that the Nineteenth army—heroes of all China for the way they have performed in the field during the last few weeks—withdraw twelve miles from Shanghai had expired at 7 a. m.

The Japanese command rushed men, tanks, machine guns and field pieces toward the front in vast quantities.

The troop preparation had been going on all night long, but until the big guns spoke at 8:50 o'clock the battle zone had been comparatively quiet. Only a burst of machine gun fire now and again told of warfare.

After the big Japanese guns had started their streams of projectiles toward Chapei, headquarters ordered up ten huge bombing planes, each of them carrying a full load of explosives.

It was evident that the crossroads of Chinese trenches in Chapei and Kiangwan was in for a terrific battle.

Lieutenant General Kenkichi Yueda, commanding officer of the Japanese army forces, told an Associated Press correspondent in his headquarters at 8 a. m. that "the end of our patience has been reached."

"We received no answer from the National government to our ultimatum and at 7 a. m. the Chinese military remained in their front lines," the general said.

"We gave them thirty minutes' grace this morning in which the National government might reply to our ultimatum and the Chinese troops might leave their positions, but they remained and the National Government remains silent," the general continued.

"Now we must take offensive action."

A few minutes after the general had made his statement ten airplanes heavily laden with bombs, took off from the airfield across from his headquarters.

Numerous additional planes were warming up, and mechanics and pilots dashed about.

NAME CHAIRMAN
Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Eight additional state chairmen to aid in the campaign started by President Hoover against the hoarding of money were announced tonight.

"Bootlegger" of Gasoline Given Long Sentence

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Abe Allen, the first man to be convicted in Illinois drive on "gasoline bootleggers," was sentenced today to three years in the house of correction.

Judge John Frydsholm also fined Allen $3,000 and ordered that he be made to work out the fine if he was not paid up promptly.

Allen was formerly head of the Midway Refining Company of South Holland, Ill. The state charged that he had large quantities of gasoline shipped from Indiana into Illinois, defrauding the state by not paying the gasoline tax.

Although denied a new trial, Allen was granted a stay of mitimus for 45 days. His attorney announced he would file an appeal. He was found guilty by a jury of all 17 counts in the indictment. One of his associates pleaded guilty soon after the alleged gasoline bootleg ring was exposed last October. Eleven others still await trial.

MILLS FAVORS IMPORTATION OF "BRANDY"

Says There Appears To Be A Demand For Brandies

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Official endorsement of a measure which would permit importation of brandy and other spirits for medicinal uses, was received by the senate today from President Hoover's cabinet member—Secretary M. J. of the treasury.

At about the same time a senate manufacturers subcommittee ended six weeks of hearings on a bill which would legalize four per cent beer. Two of its three members are opposed to prohibition and a favorable report to the full committee is expected.

Mills in a letter said "there appears to be a legitimate demand for certain foreign brandies for medicinal use."

The communication was addressed to Chairman Jones (R., Wash.), of the appropriation committee and recommended enactment of a measure by Senator Copeland (D., N. Y.), which would permit issuance of permits to import "spirits of liquor of a particular kind or quality" for non-beverage purposes on certification by the commissioner of the industrial alcohol that the supply in the United States for such purposes is insufficient.

The bulging record of testimony before the committee conducting hearings on the beer bill was completed as Rufus S. Lusk, an official of the Crusaders, anti-Prohibition organization, appeared in the four per cent beer bill, and Bulkley (D., Ohio), who is also an anti-prohibitionist.

Activities of the Anti-Saloon league and of the Bureau of Prohibition Enforcement were criticized at today's hearings by Senators Bingham (R., Conn.) author of the four per cent beer bill, and Bulkley (D., Ohio), who is also an anti-prohibitionist.

MOTHER DROWNS
TWO CHILDREN
THEN SUICIDES

Despondency Over Separation From Husband Is Cause of Tragedy

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Mabel Randall, 36, "unable to go on" because of despondency over her separation from her husband, today drowned her two children in a bathtub, stretched their bodies on their beds, and took her own life with poison.

The tragedy was discovered by Mrs. Randall's mother, Mrs. Catherine De Gries, when she returned to the South Side apartment she shared with her daughter and grandchildren.

Mrs. De Gries first discovered the bodies of the children, Ruth, 4, and Robert, 30 months, lying on a bed. She found Mrs. Randall lying in the bathtub, which was empty and near which lay an empty bottle which police said had contained acid.

Mrs. De Gries told authorities that Mrs. Randall and her husband, Frank R. Randall, who lives only a few blocks distant, separated three months ago and that her daughter had been despondent since.

In a three-page letter which Mrs. Randall had written and placed on a bureau, she ascribed her act to despondency and said "I am unable to go on."

New Lisbon, N. J., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary A. Asay, "Aunt Mary" to the residents at the Burlington County home here—was 109 years old today. She was born here.

BOMBARDMENT GENERAL OVER A WIDE AREA

Japan's Fliers Report Chinese Front Lines Heavily Manned

(By the Associated Press)
Deep-throated Japanese guns announced at 8:50 a. m. today the beginning of the big Japanese push to overwhelm the Chinese defenders of Shanghai.

A few minutes after the Japanese guns went into action, the Chinese artillery replied. Both sides put on a terrific bombardment.

At seven a. m. Japan's ultimatum calling on the Chinese army to withdraw twelve miles from Shanghai had expired.

Japanese scouting planes, sent up a few minutes after seven o'clock, brought back word that the Chinese front lines still were heavily manned. Lieut. Gen. Kenkichi Yueda, Japanese commander, announced that "the end of our patience has been reached" and ordered the beginning of the action.

Fifty Japanese planes, their motors running, waited orders to take off on bombing missions over the criss cross of Chinese trenches at Chapei and Kiangwan.

Hundreds of Americans, taking the advice of Consul General Edwin S. Cronin, hurried out of Hongkew, Kiangwan and other important areas between the city and Woosung.

American marines and soldiers and American volunteers were placed in a precarious situation on the flank of the battleground in case a pitched engagement should result.

The League of Nations again entered the situation by calling an extraordinary session of the assembly for March 3 to hear China's case against Japan.

The Japanese people peacefully went to the polls in Tokyo to elect a new house of representatives while their government debated the advisability of sending still more reinforcements to China to back up its ultimatum.

The Tokyo press reported that Henry Pu-Yi, the former "boy emperor" Hsuan Tung, had been elevated to the head of the new republic of Ankuo embracing Manchuria and Mongolia. He was said to be holding out for a royal status and the exact nature of his rule was not defined.

President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson in Washington watched the affair anxiously but issued no statements.

WAUKEGAN BANK TO BE REOPENED AT EARLY DATE

Two Closed Institutions in Northern City Will Be Consolidated

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 19.—(AP)—The defunct Waukegan State bank, whose closing was followed by ten indictments against State Auditor Oscar Nelson and five bankers of Waukegan and Chicago, will be reopened within a month in consolidation with the defunct Waukegan National bank, it was announced today.

MORGAN AND SCOTT
BAPTISTS PREPARE FOR PROGRAM HERE

Representatives of the nine Baptist churches of the Morgan-Scott Association of the Northern Baptist Convention will hold their regular mid-year meeting in the First Baptist church, Jacksonville, on Wednesday, February 24. The program will be under the direction of Rev. A. E.
Peterson, D. D., secretary and director of the Illinois Baptist State Convention.

Among the principal speakers on the program will be Dr. Bruce Kinney, director of Indian Missions of the American Baptist Home Mission Society. Dr. Kinney has served for 34 years in varied capacities in English speaking and Indian mission work in the west. In 30 years he has traveled 127,294 miles for the denomination.
There are 400 associations in the Northern Baptist Convention and each one is asked to hold a mid-year meeting for the sole purpose of discussing the program of the denomination as a whole.
He has brought problems for the churches, not least of which is the question of how to maintain the receipts for missionary work in a time when many church members are unable to contribute. Northern Baptist donations to the United States missionary budget this year have shown a decline, though it is a smaller one than might have been expected. A partial explanation of this is found in the fact that the community every member canvass plan was followed last year with great success in a number of states.

During the past year the Southern Baptist Convention has adopted the Northern Baptist plan for the community every member canvass. A plan of reciprocity was worked out under which Northern Baptist leaders, including President, J. M. Boyd Jones, of the Northern Convention, and Dr. W. H. Bowler, executive secretary, visited southern territory to assist in the campaign there.
At the same time it was arranged that Dr. McCalland, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, should come north for a speaking tour in company with the northern president, Mr. Jones.

This year the program for the mid-year meeting is built around the idea of pioneering, inasmuch as the centenary of Northern Baptist missions will be celebrated in 1932. As a prelude the Northern Baptist covered wagon made a trip across the continent last summer and will be seen again in the centenary celebration to be held in San Francisco,
where the Northern Baptist Convention will meet July 12 to 17.

COYLE CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE AT BOTTLETS' MEET

Thomas M. Coyle of this city is busy with plans for entertainment at the annual convention of the Carbonated Beverage Manufacturers of Illinois, to be held in Springfield next week, Feb.
24 and 25. Mr. Coyle is chairman of the entertainment committee, and a vice president in the bottlers will be seen again in the centenary celebration to be held in San Francisco,
where the Northern Baptist Convention will meet July 12 to 17.

The meeting of the bottlers will be held at the Abraham Lincoln hotel.
Junior Owens of Washington, D. C., national secretary of the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages, will be one of the principal speakers. His subject will be "General Review of the Bottling Industry and Recommendations for 1932 Business Methods." Mr. Owens has been in charge of the National Association's headquarters in Washington, D. C., since it was organized in 1919, and is one of the best informed members of the industry. In his talk he will discuss the activities of the National Association and also will outline the tax situation as it affects the industry nationally and in various states.

There are approximately 400 "soft drink" manufacturers in Illinois and the Springfield convention also will be attended by many representatives of allied industries. William H. Carver of Rock Island is president of the Carbonated Beverage Manufacturers of Illinois, and Harry D. Moore of Champaign is secretary-treasurer.

Persons with unpaid wheel tax, after March 1, will be prosecuted.

SCOTT W. LUCAS
FILES PETITION
FOR U. S. SENATE

Springfield, Feb. 19.—Scott W.
Lucas, of Havana, Illinois, personally appeared today in the office of Secretary of State, and filed his petition for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Lucas has been a candidate since June of last year, having resigned his position as National Judge Advocate of the American Legion at that time in order to enter the senatorial race.

He was born on a farm in Cass county, Illinois, in 1892 and grew to manhood in that community. He is a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University Law School and for the past sixteen years has resided in Havana, where he has practiced law. On two occasions he has been elected to the State's Attorney of Mason county and has held many other offices of public trust. Mr. Lucas is well and favorably known throughout the State having delivered hundreds of addresses upon different occasions in the various counties. He is regarded as one of Illinois' foremost orators and citizens.

Mr. Lucas stated that thousands upon thousands of individuals over the State had signed his primary petitions and that he had received hundreds of letters of encouragement to run for the U. S. Senate. The petition filed by Mr. Lucas today is signed by Democratic voters from practically every county in the State.
Will Tear Counties

Mr. Lucas said that it was his intention to visit every portion of the State before Primary day, and he indicated he would use all of his effort, energy and ability to assist in bringing Democratic victory to the State and to the Nation.

In commenting on what happened at the State Committee meeting in Chicago, Mr. Lucas said that Attorney Edmund P. Burke, of Springfield, appeared before the subcommittee and requested that they endorse no candidate, but let the people decide that question in a fair and open Primary.
Mr. Lucas denounced the methods used by the Chicago state leaders in attempting to force a state of candidates without the voice of the people.
He also decried the distribution of "leaflets," claiming that, as usual, Chicago crowd, through Mayor Cer-mack's state, were taking all of the money and Mr. Lucas said "We do not deserve such treatment, and the fact that ten down-state committeemen voted not to endorse any candidate is indicative of the down-state feeling."

It was learned that Mr. Lucas is forty years old today and that he has devoted his life to the cause of the fact that he desired to file same on his fortieth birthday.

TELLS CLUB OF
TRUE CHARACTER
OF WASHINGTON

Dr. Clarence P. McClelland, president of MacMurray College for Women, was the speaker at the Jacksonville Rotary club dinner today, having for his subject "The Character of George Washington."
Albert Metcalf, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker.

Professor W. T. Fletcher, member of the faculty of MacMurray College rendered a solo during the meeting. Professor Hugh Beggs was at the piano.

In opening his address Dr. McClelland said that for many years people seemed to be bewildered about the true character of George Washington.
He said that history shows that Washington was a "human being" a man of "flesh and blood," who sometimes lost his temper, played cards, danced and went to horse races. He was a fine specimen physically, standing six feet two inches and weighing 180 pounds. He was a great outdoors man, often shot outcrops and enjoyed fox hunting.

The speaker said that Washington was "at home in polite society." He quoted John Marshall as saying that he "never felt at home in the presence of George Washington, because of his dimity."

Dr. McClelland said that history showed Washington to be a great general. He quoted Von Moltke as saying that Washington's New Jersey campaign was the greatest in history.

The speaker said that Washington besides being a great general and statesman was also a successful business man. He managed thousands of acres of land, was an official in many corporations of the early days and made few mistakes during his business career.

Guests of the club today were: Rev.
C. H. Thrall, Jacksonville; Homer
Potter, Chicago; W. S. Booth, Elmer Baum, Marion Resett, S. W. Stephenson and Rabbi H. E. Snyder, all of Springfield.

SCHWEER FUNERAL WILL BE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Dr. T. J.
Schweer, prominent Beardstown physician and civic leader, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.
The funeral will take place at the Beardstown Congregational church.
Rev. A. E. Beddocks officiating. Interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery there.

Persons with unpaid wheel
tax, after March 1, will be prosecuted.
FRANK KILORAN,
Chief of Police.

MRS. READ SIGNS
FOR SORORITY GROUP

Mrs. Helen Brown Read, of the Illinois College of Music, and an enthusiastic member of Sigma Alpha Iota, gave a program of eight lieder in Music Hall on Thursday afternoon as a program complementing her sorority.

While Mrs. Read offered the program, she was joined by a group of A. I. I. It was open to friends outside the sorority and a large number were present.

The informality of this hour of song was one of its many charms.
Mrs. Clara Moore Neils opened the hour with a sketch showing the development of song and the place of Schubert in the art of song writing; showing how his art forms have changed the world of song. She presented each of the four groups offered by Mrs. Read with exactly the right insightful remarks which paved the way to a better understanding on the part of the hearers.

Miss McGhee at the piano, was no small part of the success of the hour of song.

Mrs. Read's understanding of the port of a song, her dramatic delivery and evident delight in her task, combined to make her interpretations a pleasure. She has spent years in the pursuit of song; little that is worthwhile escapes her notice, in her own field, and her sincerity of purpose as an artist is never questioned. Her fine training is always evident, but never paramount. Her voice is vibrant, powerful and of wide range.

Mrs. Read's sorority is indebted to her, and those who assisted her, for an unusual and satisfying program.

PROGRAM GIVEN FOR MOTHERS OF
GRADE STUDENTS

Students of 5A and 6B grade of the Washington school presented for their mothers this afternoon a program of songs and plays. Mrs. Blaine Spall,

Austin, Mary Ellen Davis, Grata Hall,
Arthur Moxon, Wilbur Black, Lorraine Cobb, John Self, Margaret Dunlap, Virginia Cleary, George
Kelley, Beulah Sorrells, Donald Snyder and Edward Cruzan.

OFFICIALS CURB
SPEED ON C. B. &
Q. PASSENGER RUN

There will be no more mile a minute averages established by Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad passenger trains between Galesburg and Chicago, a recent order from the general offices in Chicago states to train-men.

Some time ago an emergency order it was issued to trainmen requesting that if trains from the west were behind schedule that every effort should be made to reach Chicago on time so as to make connections with eastern trains. It was under this order that a train which recently arrived in Galesburg about a half hour late set a new time record into the windy city by making an average of a mile a minute over the 162-mile jaunt in spite of two scheduled stops and delays in passing through the Chicago yards.

It was in regard to this trip that the second order was dispatched from Chicago, claiming that for several miles the train traveled at 75 miles an hour and that this speed was excessive.

Safety, the order specified, is more essential than the time element involved, and that safety comes foremost in consideration of schedules.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moss To Observe Golden Wedding

MR. JOHN A. MOSS

MRS. JOHN A. MOSS

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moss of near Joy Prairie, northwest of the city, will be interested to learn that on Tuesday, Feb. 23, they will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss were united in marriage Feb. 23, 1882 at the home of the bride, four miles east of Concord. Rev. John Sargeant officiating minister.

Julia Blimling, a daughter of Casper and Anna Marie Yeck Blimling, was born in Cass county but while still a small child the family moved to the home east of Concord. She was one of six children. One brother, John Blimling of Jacksonville, is living.

John R. Moss, a son of John B. and Elizabeth Standley Moss, was born in Morgan county on a farm near where he now resides. He is one of a family of nine children. Those living are Mrs. Elizabeth Hoff, Los Angeles, Cal. and W. O. Moss, Eugene, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss lived in the vicinity of Jacksonville for several years after their marriage. When, about the year 1897, Mr. Moss purchased the farm near Joy Prairie that was first settled by his ancestors while the Indians still roamed the country. On this farm they still reside.

They are the parents of three children, two living: Mrs. W. A. Shumaker residing north of the city, and a son, Lloyd C. Moss, residing in the old home, Mr. and Mrs. Moss having built a smaller house nearby in which they now live. There are seven grandchildren.

They are members of Ebenezer M. E. church. Because of illness in the family there will be no formal observance of the day.

Hot Shooting Quintet From Pike County Forces Rockets To Limit In Close Battle

Stalling successfully for the last four minutes of their game, Routt high handed Nebo its third defeat of the season last night on the Illinois School for the Deaf court, but for some time Nebo had the boys from the east side fretting. Driving through successfully for short shots, the Rockets missed time after time and then resorted to long shots to turn victory their way.

Nebo seconds turned back Routt in the opening game 24 to 18, but the Rocket varys came back in the second game to nose out a 21 to 19 victory. It was a basketball natural, bringing together two teams with flashy offenses, determined defenses.

ly tha Routt was unable to get through for close shots. Nebo broke up an assault and fled down the court to draw within two points of the Rockets. DiCenso popped in another field goal with a minute to go, giving Routt its four point lead. Nebo took two long shots and sank one of them in the last minutes.

Here's a Case Where Defeat is Better Than Win

Carthage, Ill., Feb. 19.—(P)—Carthage and Augusta High school basketball fives were friendly enemies in unique county tournament game here last night.

Seeking to take advantage of an intricate pairing system, both teams fired repeated shots at opponents' baskets, hoping to lose game.

Augusta, by losing the game on points really "won" the duel and assured itself of a place in the finals.

All ten players sat on the floor in the scoreless first half. In the second half, Carthage scored several points for its own side. Then without opposition did the same for Augusta. Augusta "rallied" to score for Carthage, and the game developed into stiff contest backwads.

Stock sales 2,431,712 shares.
Bond sales $11,950,000 (par value)

By John L. Cooley
New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—After jumping 1 to 7 points in the first fifteen minutes today, stocks spent the rest of the session trying to hold their gains. They succeeded, however, only well into the late afternoon when profit-taking was not so readily absorbed, and the close, considering the brave start, was rather inglorious.

Net gains in many instances were reduced to fractions. Some stocks finished lower, some a point or two higher, but the average change for 90 issues used in the Associated Press Standard Statistics composite was a rise of only one tenth of a point.

Transfer of 700,000 shares in the first half hour contributed substantially to the total dealings of 2,431,712 shares.

A motive for so strong an opening was readily found in overnight news of the stock exchange's decision to require, beginning April 1, written and separate authorization by members' customers for the lending of their stocks to shorts. At first glance this appeared to spell serious embarrassment, if not disaster, to the bear faction and covering orders for immediate execution piled up in enormous volume. Blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares changed hands during that initial quarter hour.

With the market well into new high ground for the year on this bulge, realizing sales appeared quickly. The shorts lost their panicky feeling, perhaps because they believed the new rule would not result in completing eliminating the amount of stock available for borrowing; also, April 1 is still a month and a half away. Thus the overnight gains were deflated and the market jogged along contentedly, lacking and filling until late afternoon offerings more than offset new buying.

Although the market primarily was preoccupied with its own affairs, there seemed to be some ground for speculative encouragement in such news items as the rise in brokers' loans, a drop in currency circulation and reports of mild optimism in retail and wholesale trade circles. Also, French francs eased under the gold point and U. S. government bonds continued on their good behavior.

None of these items was sensational, but they found a place in the more pleasing financial picture which has been sketched this week.

Mercantile reviews indicated that even if business had not improved noticeably it was clinging to the side of cheerfulness. Bradstreet's reports from 35 leading cities disclosed "some cases" of a better sentiment and Dun's said there had been a continuance "in a more or less sporadic degree of the favorable factors that have marked commercial progress since the first of the month."

CURB TRADING STIMULATED

By Claude A. Jagger
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The contagion of greater cheerfulness which was apparent on the stock exchange today caught hold of the New York curb market and trading was stimulated.

Shorts lost no time about covering in the early dealings, with stocks moving ahead along a broad front. On later reflection, when it appeared that the first buying outburst had been representative of a bear stampede, trading slackened and the market resumed an orderly course with a firm undertone. Transactions approximated 300,000 shares against 170,000 yesterday.

Electric Bond & Share's quotation presented a course which was fairly typical of the general market. Ford Motors issues, both of Canada and of the European company, attracted considerable interest although changes in them were small. Following reports that Ford's new European depression car had made a favorable impression at its first public showing, the car is comparable in size, reports indicated, with makes such as the Austin.

ON the caterpillar went. It seemed that hours and hours were spent in speeding along the bumpy ground. The Tinxes hung on tight. Soon Duney said, "This is a thrill. If we don't run into a spill I wonder if we'll land some place before the dark of night."

"Well, we'll just wait. Then we'll find out. Gee, if a lot of stars are out it must be a night ride. It would be a pretty sight. We'd all be turns at sleeping sound, and one could guard the others."

"Oh, my! what can we do?" And then he spied a handy tree and to the rest he cried, "Follow me. I'm going to grab a big tree limb and so can all of you."

This was a very clever hunch, and it was that saved the Tinx bunch. The bug went underneath the tree just as they leaped in air. Each Tinx caught hold safe and sound. They watched the big bug leave the ground and disappear into the preclipse. My, what an awful scare!

The dime-a-dance girl

By JOHN CLAYTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beautiful ELLEN ROSSITER, a salesgirl at Barclay's Department Store, lives with her extravagant mother, MOLLY ROSSITER, her sister, ELLA, and her young brother, MIKE. The two girls support the family. Molly, feebly, spends her money on the rent. Ellen decides to work nights at Dreamland as a dance hall hostess until the rent is made up. The hostesses must wear evening dresses and Ellen has none.

STEVIE BARCLAY, 17 and Ellen's employer, sees the girl crying and discovers the situation. He leads Ellen a lovely frock when she refuses to accept it as a gift. Ellen forgets his kindness and goes to work. ELLA, ELLA BOWEN, a debutante. Even though she believes him to be a philanthropist she continues to see him.

Ellen quarrels with her mother, who is a miser. She goes to work with Larry to accept one from Barclay. She goes to work in the store and more in love with him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XV

Monday was sale day at Barclay's. Monday was the day the basement invariably reached its peak for the whole week. The girls dreaded Mondays. Most of them on Sunday critically examined the store advertisements to determine which counters were to be inundated. That particular Monday Ellen and Jenny Elkins, her counter mate, were the victims. Their counter drew a large and vociferous proportion of the crowd. Nine-teen-cent cretonne, hundreds of bolts, apparently were passionately desired by every woman in New York.

Ellen as she mechanically cut lengths of gay colored material and tossed them to the wrapper, as she tried vainly to keep some order among the bolts on the counter, as she again and again assured cross and weary shoppers that any one of the patterns was precisely what was wanted for summer draperies, had not a minute to think of herself or of Larry. She had dreamed of him the night before. No dream had a chance of survival at Barclay's on Monday morning.

Toward 11 Ellen began to notice that Jenny Elkins, a little chatter-box of 19, was strangely silent. Ordinarily nothing could stop Jenny's active tongue. She was always talking and giggling between sales or during them, calmly oblivious of the fury of her customers. Ellen missed her cheerful chatter and her breathless confidences of what "the boy friend" had said or done the night before.

During a temporary lull, she ventured to move to Jenny's end of the counter to ask how she had spent the weekend.

The other girl continued making out her sales slip. Since Jenny did not speak, Ellen decided that she had not heard the question. She repeated it. Jenny raised a flushed face.

"Doing nothing much," she answered coolly.

"I haven't done anything to offend you, have I?" Ellen asked in surprise.

"Of course not," Jenny responded airily.

She tore off the sales slip, handed the carbon to her customer and affably urged the perspiring woman to come again to Barclay's. She was so affable that the customer looked a bit startled as she hurried away. She was less startled than Ellen. Ellen knew how Jenny felt about customers.

Unfortunately at that moment her attention was diverted by a renewed run on cretonnes. She was compelled to dash back to her own place. Eventually she decided to ask Jenny to lunch with her. She really preferred to lunch alone, but she had no intention of permitting her counter-mate to sulk over an imaginary injury.

At the stroke of 12 and before Ellen had a chance to speak, Jenny disappeared. That was odd, too. Generally there was some casual discussion of luncheon plans. Ellen ran toward the employee's stairway and caught up with Jenny who was making her way to the rest room.

"I'll set you up to lunch if you don't go over 50 cents," she offered gaily, knowing how broke Jenny invariably was.

"Sorry," answered Jenny.

"Look here," Ellen began suddenly and with spirit, "if you're annoyed with me over something I insist that you tell me what it is."

The stairs were full of hurrying girls. All at once Ellen was possessed of the notion that Jenny did not wish to be seen with her. Certainly she was galloping up the stairs in an unusual manner.

"Tell me," she urged again.

"It's nothing," Jenny responded sulkily.

"It is too, or you wouldn't act this way," Ellen persisted. "You're not in such a hurry as all this. Let's stop a moment."

She walked through the door at the second floor and into the practically deserted furniture department. After a long glance at the stairs and a fearful, fascinated glance at Ellen's back, Jenny followed.

"Now, out with it," Ellen said. Jenny was plainly embarrassed.

She looked at Ellen uncomfortably, started to speak but instead locked her lips in stubborn silence. As she regained her composure Ellen saw with growing nervousness that Jenny had assumed a look of covert curiosity as though there were something new and disturbing about Ellen which she had never seen before.

"I've always liked you, Ellen," she said at last weakly, "but a girl has to think of her reputation."

"What in the world do you mean?" Ellen demanded angrily.

"It's your fault," Jenny continued, gathering confidence. "You're always pretending to be—oh, well, sort of different from the rest of us. I wouldn't have said a word if you hadn't insisted. But the whole store's talking."

Ellen remembered abruptly that when she had gone to the lockers that morning a small group of whispering girls had been gathered around the mirror. She knew most of them, but as she had approached they melted away before she had had any opportunity to greet them.

"What are they talking about, Jenny?" she asked.

"I guess you know well enough," Jenny replied, aly enough. "It's you and Mr. Barclay. His secretary got the bill this morning from the florist shop. I saw it myself."

"There's more to it than that," Jenny interrupted. "Mrs. Bondy knows someone who saw you coming out of his apartment at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning. Ellen Rossiter, I'd never have believed it of you!"

Ellen was appalled. Mrs. Bondy was a notorious gossip who held forth from the linen on the fourth floor. A sharp-eyed, aging woman she saw everything, heard everything, told everything. Time and again she had been proved wrong in her facts but her stories were so circumstantial, so loaded with titillating detail, that seldom was her veracity questioned. Ellen saw that it had not been questioned in this case.

Shaken and horrified, she realized the futility of protest. She knew the store too well for that. If at that moment she had sworn to Jenny that she had at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning been miles from Barclay's apartment she would have told the truth. But Jenny would not have believed her. Already the other girl had begun to enjoy herself, was doubtless, Ellen thought, storing up the interview to relate to her friends and acquaintances.

"So you see how it is," Jenny concluded. "A girl has to think of herself."

She shrugged ever so slightly and moved away.

Ellen remained standing near the elevator until Jenny had slipped out of sight and the door had swung after her. Presently she turned and started stiffly down the stairs. She would not go into the common rest room where others would cease their conversation as she entered. She would not risk their staring, curious, inferential glances. Not now.

There was only one thing to do. After a lunch hour spent walking blindly up and down Fifth Avenue Ellen decided on that course. She would see Steven Barclay no more. She would give him any excuse except the real one. She could not give him that. Let him think that she was ungovernable, that she despised him, that she was a false friend. Let him think what he would. He would never, she thought, hit upon the truth. Surely no one would be bold enough to carry tales to him.

She would say nothing, offer no explanations to the curious. She would have to stare them down. There was nothing else to do.

Throughout the afternoon she treated Jenny Elkins with the same cool disregard that Jenny herself had shown in the morning. She succeeded to the extent of giving that young woman a puzzling and uncomfortable afternoon.

It was nearly 4 and Ellen had begun to feel the lack of her lunch when Molly Rossiter telephoned. With her usual disregard of the fact that Ellen was supposed to be working, only business calls during business hours, Jenny answered the telephone and very formally told Ellen that she was wanted.

At that moment Ellen knew she could have brought Jenny back to her, chiefly because it was agony for that little magpie to be silent for any long period. Instead Ellen, with just as much formality, accepted the telephone.

For once Molly was not in trouble. For once Ellen was glad she had broken the store rules. Her mother's voice was very dear to her just then.

"Don't you suppose, honey, you could get away from Dreamland to-night?" Molly began. "We're having guests."

"I can easily. I was going to anyhow," Ellen replied, conscious that Jenny lingered in earshot.

She added curiously, "Who?" in a voice so low that Jenny missed it.

"Way—her mother hesitated and then bubbled with laughter. "Bert's coming."

"I'll be there," Ellen promised.

As she moved back to the end of the counter she wondered why her mother called Myra's dance "guests." For years Bert had run in and out of the apartment much as if he lived there. But Ellen was too troubled and worried by her own problem to ponder long about so small a mystery.

MRS. H. W. ENGLISH SPEAKS TO G. A. R. LADIES AT MEET

Patriotic Groups Are Described as Stabilizers of Nation in Talk

"Patriotic organizations are the stabilizers of our nation, because they came into being to perpetuate the principles of the men who fought, bled and died to give us this country and because their descendants prize this heritage and banded together to carry on, and to hand to posterity this great nation which they hold in trust," with this eloquent statement of the purpose and reason for being of the patriotic groups throughout the country, Mrs. Henry W. English addressed members of the Edward Gallagher Circle, Ladies of G. A. R., in their Washington-Lincoln celebration meeting Friday afternoon at the American Legion Home.

Urging the women she addressed to seek to protect and preserve the historic spots of the country, Mrs. English went on to point out that as women there is much that they can do for the country that only women can accomplish. She warned against the battle of the sexes which always seeks to do the men's work and holds the feeling that women are better than men, for, as she showed, "women promised great things when they secured the ballot but they have not made good; after more than ten years of suffrage we have proved that there is little sex cleavage in politics and that women are just as easily swayed and corrupted as men by other words. We are all human." Among the speaker's key thoughts in urging the women to do the work which lay before them was her statement, "let us give ourselves more to informing and less to reforming."

Let us stand by those who have the good of our country at heart, inform ourselves to combat subversive propaganda, educate and influence our young, and when we do our full measure in these lines we shall have lived to reform people—they will have been properly formed."

One of Mrs. English's most sincere messages was that in which she warned her listeners against joining organizations of which they might know little. There are, she felt, many to which well meaning women lend their name and which in reality under the guise of humanitarianism, peace and education, work for the downfall of the country. "We want, she said, to know more war, but we believe that the giant of nation's creed should be prepared, lest we be in another's greed ensnared."

The other patriotic numbers for the afternoon program were as follows:

America.
Pledge to the flag.
Society "Guard the Flag."
Reading, "Washington's Birthday."
Mrs. F. B. Robinson.
Solo, "Washington the Father of the Land We Love"—W. Z. Fletcher.
Solo, "Betsy Ross' Flag"—Opaline Bishop.
Patriotic marches of different periods—Mrs. Ralph Hutchinson, pianist.
Address—Mrs. Henry W. English, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, a Lincoln poem—Mrs. Sadie Gallagher.
Star Spangled Banner.

Chinese Soldiers Move to The Front

Placid, unmovable of countenance, typical soldiers of China are shown above as they "moved up" to the front in the region near Koupangetzu, Manchuria. This picture was taken in a railway troop train on the Peking-Mukden line a few days before the surrounding area fell into the hands of the Japanese. Note the fur hats—a special protection against the bitter Manchurian cold—and the trim uniforms.

MACMURRAY TEAM DEBATES U. OF I. HERE LAST NIGHT

An intercollegiate debate was held at MacMurray college last night the contestants being students from the University of Illinois and the college. The teams debated the question, "Resolved, That Great Britain should grant immediate independence to India." The meet was non-decision.

The MacMurray debaters took the affirmative side, and included Misses Annabelle Scott and Esther Dumart, both of this city and Miss Helen Campbell of Normal. The university team included Misses Helen Bonnett, June Lowman and Norma McGreary.

Dr. Fred Sorenson of the Illinois State Normal University, was the critic. Dr. Sorenson said that superior reasoning is always expected at good debates, and commented both teams for having carried out this point. He said the talks were interesting and directly made, and commented favorably on other points in the debating, stating that it would be hard to decide which has the best debate team.

There are but four teachers of speech in Illinois who have the Ph.D. degree. They include Prof. Sorenson, Dr. Simons of Northwestern University, Dr. Sanford of the University of Illinois and Dr. Jean Brady Jones of MacMurray.

OTTO M. OLSEN PASSES AWAY IN ST. LOUIS FRIDAY

Prominent Jacksonville Business Man Operated Jacksonville Bus Line

Otto M. Olsen, one of Jacksonville's best known and most successful business men, and owner of the Jacksonville bus line, operating busses to St. Louis, Springfield and Quincy, daily, passed away Friday evening at 7:15 o'clock at Central hospital in St. Louis. Mr. Olsen had been in failing health since last November. He became a patient at the St. Louis hospital about a week ago but it was not until yesterday that his condition became alarming, few of his friends here realizing the seriousness of his illness.

Mrs. Olsen had been in St. Louis since her husband became a patient at the hospital there, and Fred and Kenneth Olsen, sons of the deceased, were called to that city yesterday. Mrs. Olsen and the sons returned to Jacksonville last night. The body will be brought to Jacksonville this morning, accompanied by Lloyd Ross, Mr. Olsen's assistant in his transportation business.

Mr. Olsen's success in the operation of passenger busses is well known throughout Illinois. His first line was started some ten years ago between this city and Springfield, before the hard road was completed between the two cities. After the establishment of the Jacksonville-Springfield line, he added a line between this city and Quincy. Later he purchased the Jacksonville-St. Louis line from the Alton Railway company.

During the development of Mr. Olsen's bus lines he also found time to participate in civic affairs and was one of Jacksonville's most consistent boosters. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and was affiliated with other organizations of the city.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, both of whom are attending school. Fred being a student at the Illinois School for the Deaf and Kenneth studying at the Western Military Academy.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete. Interment will be in Jacksonville.

FOUR RESIDENTS OF CHAPIN HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Car Strikes Culvert on Meredosia Road While En Route to City

Four residents of the Chapin community were injured about 10:15 o'clock Friday morning when the car in which they were coming to this city to attend Albert Duckett's funeral struck a culvert near the Ruby York farm on the Meredosia road. The injured were:

Walter Woodward, driver of the car, face bruised.

Mrs. Walter Woodward, deep cut on head.

T. U. Markham, cashier of the Chapin bank, injury to head.

Mrs. Anna Ethel, wrenched back.

The four were brought to Our Saviour's hospital, where they received the necessary medical and surgical attention. Mrs. Woodward is the most seriously injured of the party.

The Woodward car is reported to have collided with the rear of another machine driven by C. F. Duckett. It then struck the culvert and was badly damaged. Mr. Woodward remained in the car, but the others were thrown clear. Mr. Woodward received his injury when his face struck the steering wheel.

There were several cars enroute to the funeral, and assistance to the injured was immediate. They were brought to the hospital at once. Mr. Markham was badly dazed by a blow on the head and he and Mrs. Woodward will probably be in the hospital for sometime. The others have only minor injuries.

QUINCY MEN ROB LOCAL FILLING STATION, CLAIM

Adams County Sheriff Says One of Pair Confesses Robbery Richardson Station

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 19.—(P)—Police said tonight they had cleared up a series of automobile thefts and robberies through the arrest of Louis Gille, 19, and George Eberle, 18.

The two youths were surprised as they slept in a corn field near here today and arrested. Gille confessed, authorities said, that he and Eberle had stolen eight expensive automobiles and committed four robberies in Illinois and Missouri since Feb. 6.

Among the offenses police said were solved with the arrest of the youths were robberies of gasoline filling stations at Pittsfield, Ill., and Jacksonville, Ill., of $40 each; robbery of a man of $40 and his automobile in St. Louis, the car being abandoned at Hannibal, Mo., and theft of another car at Sedalia, Mo.

Automobiles owned by State Senator Leroy Adair and William C. Jones, chairman of the state pardon-parole board, also were said by authorities to have been stolen by Gille and Eberle.

Chief of Police Frank Kiloran was notified yesterday that Gille and Eberle, both of Quincy are being held by the Adams county sheriff at Quincy. Gille is said to have confessed robbing the Richardson Service station, at the corner of South Main street and Beecher avenue, early last Monday morning. The pair arrested in Quincy are alleged to have robbed Harold Burch of his city.

The two men are said to have stolen an automobile belonging to Senator Adair of Quincy early Monday morning and traveled to this city where they forced Burch, agent at the Richardson station to open the cash register from which they took $38. The robbery occurred here about six o'clock in the morning.

The robbers forced James W. Johnson, 1913 Spring street, Quincy, who happened to be in the station, to go into a closet, where he had to remain until the bandits left. They warned Burch to keep quiet. Johnson was able to observe the men rather closely and says he would know them again. Burch also declares he would know the two.

According to Johnson, the men made themselves at home in the station for awhile before they staged the holdup. They drove up to the place and put some water in their car. They then entered the office and began to get warm at the radiator. Johnson was seeking a ride to his home at Quincy, and engaged the men in conversation in the hope that they would take him. They talked freely at first, but soon showed their hand. Johnson, at the point of a gun was forced into a closet and Burch was told to open the cash register.

Burch opened the cash register and the bandits filled it, taking all the cash, but leaving behind the station. They jerked the telephone off the wall. They drove east on Beecher avenue in making their getaway.

Chief Kiloran said last night that it had not been decided which county would prefer charges against the two men.

NAME FIREMEN, POLICE BOARD MEMBERS FRIDAY

Chief Frank Kiloran was elected a trustee of the new police pension board and Charles Lonergan, Fred Timmerman and Ernest Edmonds were chosen members of the firemen pension board, at an election held by the police and firemen at the city hall yesterday.

Other members who will serve on the police board with Chief Kiloran include H. K. Chenoweth and C. T. Mackness. The fireman board will include in addition to those elected yesterday, H. C. Clement, city treasurer, F. A. Robinson, city clerk, Mayor J. F. Reeve and Fire Chief Frank Sullivan.

The newly elected board members will serve until the second Tuesday in April, when there will be another election to name officers for one year.

LOCAL LEGION POST IN BUSINESS MEET

Routine business was conducted by members of the Jacksonville post of the American Legion at their meeting last night. The entire proceeds of the state commander's banquet will be held at Roodhouse next Monday evening and of a county session to be held at Waverly on Thursday, Feb. 25.

Announcement was also made of the plans the Legion is making for a national defense meeting here on March 2. Harry Herring, Frank Taylor, E. M. Murphy and Frank Vannier were named members of an employment committee.

REPORT GOOD SALE OF TICKETS FOR AIR SHOW

Committee members who are engaged in selling tickets for the show at the Fox-Illinois theater tonight report good success. The entire proceeds of the show which will start at 11:15 o'clock, are to go toward defraying the expense of locating an airport for the city.

There will be a feature picture, additional short pictures, vaudeville acts and Morrie Craig's orchestra will provide music.
